About 800 Pairs of "Sorosis" Shoes, For Special Reasons, $2.50 per pair.

Since introducing "Sorosis" Shoes for Women, some two years ago, we have sold in this city nearly 50,000 pairs.

Wishing to have every style that could be called for, we brought here several styles which have had only limited sale, while in other parts of the United States they are very popular. Some of these have become shopworn.

There are also some styles in Tan and Russet which make exceedingly serviceable shoes. If desired, these can be dved so as to give exactly the same service as a black Calf or Kid Shoe.

There are altogether 20 styles of these Women's Boots and Oxfords, representing Calfskin and Vici Kid Boots and Oxfords, welted and turned soles, narrow and medium toes.

Every size, half size and width, from 2 to 7, and from AAA to D, is represented by several styles, though we have not every size in every style, and we cannot guarantee to have any style or size after the sale begins.

In order to give our customers every benefit which we can we shall place them on sale this morning, January 13, at

HANNA MAY CLASH WITH PRESIDENT.

Open Rupture, Long Expected, Is Now Said to Be at Hand-Appearances Deceiving.

Believed He Will "Wash His Hands" of the 'Administration and Organize an Aggressive Fairbanks Campaign.

The Republic Bureau. Washington, Jun. 12 .- According to good political authority, there will be a sharp public clash between President Roosevelt and Senator M. A. Hanna within the near future. The trouble has been brewing in this quarter for some time past, in spite of the fact that Hanna goes to the White House, takes lunch with the President and has been consulted about several appointments in Ohio.

The statement is made that Hanna recently cautioned the President to tread the executive stage with more caution and to be more circumspect in his expressions. Hanna is said to have told President Roosevelt n his blunt way:

"You are talking too much. Big business nterests are getting apprehensive, and I am in a position to know their failing. Unless there is moderation of expression in the White House our party will hear some developments in the financial centers that will not be pleasant."

It is said that President Roosevelt heard this without apparent displeasure, but that Hanna does not think his advice was welcome, and is now getting ready to "wash his hands" of the present administration, and that he will make an announcement to this effect.

Those who know Hanna will credit the prediction of the Republican quoted above. Since he has been chairman of the Repub lican National Committee, Hanna has not hesitated to speak out plainly about any policy or action of his party or any of its eaders, no matter how exalted, if he believed Republican prospects were being injured. Hanna is not satisfied with the present situation and an unequivocal statement to this effect is expected by Ohlo Republicans.

Hanna has been referred to frequently as candidate for the presidency. This is sald to be unfounded. His choice is Senaor Fairbanks of Indiana and nearly all of Hanna's committee are for the same candi-

An open rupture between the National Committeeman and the President probably would be the forerunner of an aggressive campaign for Fairbanks.

NEW ACCOUNT OF SANTIAGO VICTORY.

Noted War Correspondent's His tory of Flying Squadron Throws Light on Controversy.

DISPLEASED. SCHLEY'S SIGNALS UNNOTICED.

His Appeal for Honor of Receiving Surrender of Cristobal Colon, Twice Repeated, Was Also Ignored.

Chicago, Jan. 12 - A book entitled "Schley and Santiago" is on the press in this city and will be bound within ten days. The author is George E. Graham, a war correspondent, who had exceptional facilities for gathering materials, as he was on board the Brooklyn during the fight with the Spanish fleet, and thus in a position to tell the story of Santiago "without fear or favor." The book is said to have the unqualified indorsement of Rear Admiral Schley, who read and corrected the proof-

When President Roosevelt was Governor of New York, he was present when Mr. Graham gave an account of the battle to tate officials and members of the Legislature, and said:

"I am sure you feel as pleased at having listened to Mr. Graham as I do, for I have listened to the best account I have ever heard or read of the naval fighting during Complete Story of Flying Squadron

This book is the first and only complete story of the work of the Flying Squadron, commanded by Schley. Mr. Graham was assisted by his camera, which enabled him to add many interesting illustrations, and the account he gives of the movements of the fleet and the battle is evidently sincere It is free of virulent and personal attacks; the aim is to give a truthful statement of every occurrence. In connection with the arrival of the New York, Mr. Graham says; "The Commodore reached over to me, took my glasses, and looked searchingly to the east, saying slowly as he did so: 'There is the Texas and there is the Vixen, but I don't see the New York.' And then, as he kept the glasses up, in an instant he had evidently found her, for he remarked: 'Yes, there she is. I can tell her by her smoke. This was at 1:45 o'clock, and the Colon had gone ashore at 1:15, while Captain Cook had received the surrender at 1:45. New York Ignored Schley's Signals. "At 2 o'clock just as the New York got where we considered her in signal distance Commodore Schley ordered the signal raised; 'A glorious victory has been achieved. Details later. This signal replaced the one which we had been flying for nearly three-quarters of an hour, 'The enemy has surrendered,' and which the New York had not answered. "Vainly the signal officers on the bridge watched the New York for even the courtesy of an answering pernant showing that she understood our signal. None was displayed, and then it apparently dawned upon Commodore Schley's mind that Sampson's flag Captain on the New York was probably ir tent upon ignoring him. "Picking up the megaphone, Commodore Schley did the one thing that day for which I have always criticised him-lowered his lignity sufficiently to plead with the commander of the fleet that he might have the honor of receiving the surrender of the stip whose escape had been frustrated by the Brooklyn and the Oregon, thus making complete the day's victory.

"'I request the honor of the surrender of the Cristobal Colon," he said, in a clear, disinct voice, and from the Commander-in Chief's flagship came wafted back the inso lent answer from a cadet, 'What?' No Cheer for Sampson's Ship. "'I request the honor of the surrender of the Cristobal Colon," again called the Comodore, and this time his voice trembled closely, waited intently for an answer, but "And that message, as had all the others preceding it since the destruction of the Spanish fleet, which had been addressed by Schley to the New York, remained un-"Somebody raised a broom at our masthead on one of the pennant halyards, and the crew of the Oregon followed suit and then gave three cheers for Commodore

BREWERS TO FIGHT TEXAS TRUST LAW.

'ombination of All Beer-Making Interests First Step in New Aggressive Move.

ST. LOUIS FIRMS MAY LEAD.

Effort Made by Them to Secure Another Foothold in State, Where Legal Restrictions Drove Them Out.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Dallas, Tex., Jan. 12.-The information was given out here to-day by a prominent lawyer direct from Austin that the big breweries are considering a plan to knock out the Texas antitrust law that recently caused them so much trouble. The plan is an adroit one, and the brewerles are said to be working in harmony with the compress companies that are being prosecuted. The seven Texas breweries that were caught in the antitrust dragnet have taken steps to surrender their old charters, as required by law and the agreement when they pleaded guilty. Instead of reorganizing however, and taking out new charters, the plan is to form one big corporation and sell stock to all the seven breweries, makstock of $10,000,000. Of course, the large brewerles in St. Louis. Milwaukee and other outside places that were practically driven out of the State, will have large interests in the proposed new concern. Attorney General Bell last night admitted to the lawyer who brought the news to Dallas, that he had heard of the new movement from the legal representatives

ing one big concern of them, with a capital of the men who were promoting it. Mr. Bell declined to pass an opinion on the mat The promoters will wait until after a decision has been rendered by the Supreme Court in the case of the State of Texas against the Shippers' Compress and Ware house Company in which a question is in-volved as to whether it is a violation of the antitrust law for one concern to buy serving a thirteen-year sentence for deserfavorable to the compresses there will be no legal barrier to the seven Texas breweries selling their interests to one cor
